ICR steps up to provide a global platform for Reflexologists from around the world to share their knowledge and skills

The International Council of Reflexologists (ICR) is excited to welcome delegates from around the world to participate in an International Conference. This is the 17th ICR International Conference and it will take place in Anchorage, Alaska from the 19th to 22nd September 2019.

Since its inception this International Event has circled the globe twice, making it the world's leading International Reflexology Conference. This prestigious global event was last held in the USA 10 years ago and ICR is very privileged to have the opportunity to invite delegates back to the USA.

Driven by their goal to unite Reflexologists around the globe, ICR has planned three days of presentations, workshops and networking platforms to enable delegates to work together towards promoting Reflexology as a profession throughout the world. In line with this goal this conference will be focused on “The Gold Standard of Reflexology” and over the three days, each and every delegate will have the opportunity to find their gold nugget of information to take home with them.

During the conference, delegates will have the opportunity to attend:

- Ten presentations from world renowned speakers
- Four hands on workshops
- Poster presentations
- Vendor exhibits
- ICR Humanitarian Event – hands on mini workshop demonstrating the one-minute facial reflexology technique on dogs
- Social activities such as treatment swaps, scarf painting and other fun activities

All of the above provide an opportunity to network with colleagues from over 22 countries to highlight the value of dialogue and connecting with each other to improve collaboration and sharing, whilst adding value to the existing efforts to promote Reflexology as a profession.

ICR cordially invites you to register for the Conference of the Year. For more information please visit www.icr-reflexology.org or email membership@icr-reflexology.org.
